Pam Brownfield

Pam Brownfield is a follower of Christ, a wife, a mother, and a grandmother. She received her B.S. in Microbiology (clinical discipline) from Auburn University in 1983. Her early work experience was in bacteriology with the State Veterinary Lab and in human virus serology with the State Diagnostic Lab. Pam has a spiritual gift of teaching and homeschooled the four Brownfield children from preschool through high school. In the early 1980s, she discretely tutored pioneer homeschooled children in Auburn. In the early 1990s, Pam administered standardized testing and oversaw science experiments as part of Evangel homeschool legal covering in Montgomery. In 1994, the Brownfields left the US to serve as missionaries in first Malawi and later Mozambique, where Pam continued as an informal homeschool consultant and cheerleader for other missionaries teaching their own children. Pam and her husband Bob retired from the International Mission Board in February 2022.

Holly Dean

Holly Dean is a committed follower of Christ, a totally smitten wife, and a mom to six lovely children. She fell in love with God's most spectacular creation, the human body, in high school anatomy and physiology class. She had a great teacher that inspired her to be amazed at God's creation! She is a registered nurse, having received her ADN from Southern Union and her BSN from Auburn University at Montgomery. Her work experience includes many years of pediatric, ICU, and oncology nursing, as well as teaching junior high and high school sciences. Still having three children at home, she continues to homeschool (another 10 years to go) and enjoys balancing life with three amazing adult children and two precious daughters-in-law. She loves gardening and taking care of her ever-growing brood of animals and longs for Monday night dates with her hubby.

Candace Denison

Candace Denison is the wife of attorney, Joseph C. Denison, Sr., and mother to three homeschooled children. Candace is a graduate of Auburn University with a B.A. in history and a double minor in political science and journalism. She graduated from Oral Roberts University O. W. Coburn School of Law with a Juris Doctorate and was admitted to practice in the Alabama and Florida Bars. She taught as an adjunct professor at Regent University School of Law in Virginia Beach, Virginia, and with her husband founded Denison and Denison, P. C., a law firm committed to estate and tax law as well as adoption. This is her twelfth year to teach Physical Science with Lakeview HOC. She also teaches World Geography and Civics/Alabama History for Lakeview JOC.

Kathy Lynch

Kathy graduated from Auburn University in 1979 with a B.S. in Elementary Education. Upon graduation she began teaching in the Lee County school system and continued teaching until 1996 when she began homeschooling her own two children. While homeschooling she taught part-time, on-campus at Ballard Christian School from 1996 to 2001. In 2004 she began teaching composition classes and other subjects to homeschoolers at the Homeschool Connection. Kathy taught students from elementary ages through seniors in high school. She withdrew from teaching during 2011-2013 to care for her husband who was diagnosed with a rare neurological disease. After his passing in August 2013, she returned to teaching homeschoolers as God called her to do long ago. Currently she teaches classes for the Lakeview Educational Enrichment Program (LEEP), as well as Lakeview's JOC and HOC, and the Charlotte Mason Classical Community (CMCC) in Auburn. Working with students is one of her greatest passions.

Rebecca Miller

Rebecca graduated from Auburn University in 1999 with a degree in both architecture and interior design. After working in architecture for many years, she decided to stay home in order to homeschool her three children. Since moving to Auburn in 2008, she has taught many classes for children and homeschoolers in the Auburn/Opelika area. Her interest in public speaking stems from her many experiences in debate, theater, and teaching as well as speaking engagements.

Becky Robertson

Becky received a B.A. in Fine Arts with a teaching certificate in 1973 and a B.S. in German Education in 1982, both from Auburn University. She earned a master's certificate from the International School of Theology with a concentration in Intercultural Studies. She also earned a Certification of English Language Teaching to Adults from Cambridge University. Becky worked with CRU seven years, spending half of that time based in Germany. Becky and her husband, Roger, later served ten years in Indonesia with both the IMB and PI. She has spent at least one week in more than a dozen countries. After returning to the states, she taught in the Intensive English Program at Auburn University. Becky and Roger have worked with international students at Auburn University for many years and have experienced great joy serving God and being a small part of what He is doing throughout the world. Isaiah 43:6-7 states, "Bring my sons from afar and my daughters from the ends of the earth – everyone who is called by my name, whom I created for my glory, whom I formed and made."
