Holly Dean

Holly Dean is a committed follower of Christ, a totally smitten wife, and a mom to six lovely children. She fell in love with God's most spectacular creation, the human body, in high school anatomy and physiology class. She had a great teacher that inspired her to be amazed at God's creation! She is a registered nurse, having received her ADN from Southern Union and her BSN from Auburn University at Montgomery. Her work experience includes many years of pediatric, ICU, and oncology nursing, as well as teaching junior high and high school sciences. Still having three children at home, she continues to homeschool (another 9 years to go) and enjoys balancing life with three amazing adult children and two precious daughters-in-law. She loves gardening and taking care of her ever-growing brood of animals and longs for Monday night dates with her hubby.

Candace Denison

Candace Denison is the wife of attorney, Joseph C. Denison, Sr., and mother to three homeschooled children. Candace is a graduate of Auburn University with a B.A. in history and a double minor in political science and journalism. She graduated from Oral Roberts University O. W. Coburn School of Law with a Juris Doctorate and was admitted to practice in the Alabama and Florida Bars. She taught as an adjunct professor at Regent University School of Law in Virginia Beach, Virginia, and with her husband founded Denison and Denison, P. C., a law firm committed to estate and tax law as well as adoption. This is her fourteenth year to teach Physical Science with Lakeview HOC. She also teaches U.S. History for Lakeview HOC and Civics with Alabama History for Lakeview JOC. In addition to teaching, Candace serves as coordinator for Lakeview's HOC and JOC programs.

Shelle Greeson

Shelle Greeson is from the small town of Cookeville, Tennessee, and a graduate of Tennessee Tech University with a B.S. in Education. She taught English as a second language for almost 10 years for Rutherford County schools in Murfreesboro, Tennessee. In 2010, she and her family moved to Aguascalientes, Mexico, with her husband's job. It was an experience of blind faith, and it showed her how God's plan is much greater than any human could imagine. In Mexico, Shelle learned the true value of a second language, cultural exposure, and how God opens doors when you least expect it. She returned to the Murfreesboro area after 3 years and with a new perspective on teaching English learners. In 2017, she and her family moved to Auburn where Shelle taught Spanish 1 and Spanish 2 at Auburn Junior High from 2020 to 2022. Shelle is elated for the opportunity to teach Spanish at Lakeview.

Kris Malinowski

Kris and his wife Davide have been married for 28 years. They have four children who have all been home educated. He received his MS in Agriscience in Poland, where he was born. He also earned an MS in Science Education from Cambridge College in Boston, MA. He then taught Science in the NYC public school system for many years. In 2007 Kris and his family moved to Alabama as a result of a growing sense of the call to missions. With great joy they first began their work with Harvest Evangelism ministry of Auburn and soon also got involved with the Lakeview Baptist Church homeschool community. Within four years, however the door to international missions opened, and they spent the following eight years in Poland working with local churches, evangelizing, and starting a new church plant. In 2018, they returned to Auburn as their children were about to begin their study at Auburn University. A new season in the Malinowski family life continues while they keep homeschooling their youngest daughter and thrive in various ministries of Lakeview Baptist church.

Tara Maple

Tara Maple graduated with a B.A. in English and Psychology from Auburn University in 1993 and did graduate work in Executive Management at Florida State University. Her work experience includes teaching GED and life skills classes, being a night and weekend manager in a domestic violence shelter, working with teen moms and their children in Florida Early Head Start, medical management in surgical and dental practices, teaching homeschool literature and writing classes, coordinating the PPE program for A.U. Harrison School of Pharmacy, and tutoring writing and English to ELL students. She believes that loving others is the heart of Christianity and prefers to do this through serving in her community and abroad, especially immigrants and refugees. Learning is a passion; current languages of study are German and Korean. She also likes writing, as well as listening to people she meets. She serves on her church international missions committee and hopes to pass on the attitude of service to her two teen daughters. Tara's husband is Thomas, a psychologist who last year felt led to leave his job with the government and begin a faith-based psychology practice. Tara looks forward to exploring writing and literature with your students.

Debbie Reeves

Debbie holds a B.S. in Chemical Engineering from Clemson University and both an M.S. and Ph.D. in Chemical Engineering from Georgia Tech. As a homeschooling mom for over twenty-five years, Dr. Reeves has taught her six children all subjects and particularly enjoys teaching math and chemistry as keys to understanding God's complex design of the world around us. This will be her eighth year teaching chemistry for Lakeview Christian School. Debbie serves as the high-school principal for First Baptist Opelika Christian School, where she advises homeschooling parents and oversees student records. As the instructor for Reeves Test Prep, she delights in helping students improve their college entrance exam scores so that they can pursue the college of their choice and help finance their education through scholarships. Debbie is the wife of Stan Reeves, Professor Emeritus of Electrical & Computer Engineering at Auburn University. They are both members of Grace Heritage Church in Auburn. When she's not teaching, Debbie loves tending to her garden, solving puzzles, and reading aloud to her family.
